

TIM'S EXPERIENCE

Business Acumen

Community Focus

Crisis Expertise

Tim and his wife, Kathy, have lived and worked in Fargo since 1980. They raised their family here and are now enjoying the thrill of being grandparents. Although Tim is proud and excited by the explosive growth Fargo is experiencing, he also recognizes the need to proactively support and direct our evolution so we don't lose the heart and soul of our community. One of his goals is to promote smart growth with affordable housing for all ages of residents, along with the infrastructure—safe water, adequate police and fire crews, maintained streets—to sustain those neighborhoods.

He is also committed to creating a more walkable community for improved physical, mental and social health. Tim offers a generational view of Fargo, seeing not only the issues affecting today's residents but also planning ahead for future generations as our city grows.
